POSTOFFICE SAFE IS BLOWN OPEN

Between two and three o'clock Monday morning the safe of the post office at San Mateo was blown open and $300 worth of stamps taken. The explosion was heard by Watchmen Rose and Tyrrell who were at no great distance. They arrived at the scene in time to see the men running away and immediately fired at them. The shots were returned by the robbers who escaped in an automobile, but not before they had dropped the boot in which it is recovered by the officers. Word was sent by telephone to Chief Cunningham who immediately began a search for the robbers who escaped in this direction in an automobile. The officers of San Jose were notified when it was learned that the machine had passed there at a great speed. About 5 o'clock the party arrived in Santa Clara and was traced as far as Julian street in San Jose where the trail was lost in the traffic. It had already begun to be thought that the robbers had escaped and the officers were returning when it was learned that the robbers had taken the road along the line were notified.

The thieves gained an entrance through a rear door which had been pried with tools stolen from a blacksmith shop. When the safe was blown open the force of the explosion blew the plate glass window into the street, drawing the attention of the watchmen who were near the public library.

It is presumed that the same men who have been operating through Central California for the past few months in a number of robberies have been detected in the act of cating the same have robbed postoffices, in Campbell, Cupertino, Santa Martin, and elsewhere. A good description of the men, supposed to be implicated in this burglar is held by the police department in San Francisco so further developments may be looked for soon.

United States Inspector Cornish has been in San Mateo investigating the robbery. Postmaster Byrnes states that none of the registered letters are missing.

The San Mateo postoffice was robbed once before. About seven years ago when the office was in the Union Hotel block the safe was blown up. Postmaster Byrnes and his assistant Mr. Weller heard the explosion at that time and rushed to the office from their rooms upstairs. The office was in darkness and the robbers met them face to face with drawn revolvers near the outer door. Mr. Weller grabbed one revolver as the trigger was pulled and the hammer fell on the fleshy part of his hand, preventing the explosion of the cartridge and probably saving the deputy postmaster's life. The robber rushed out of the door and escaped, but a good description of him was given the officers and he was arrested two weeks later in Sacramento and is now serving a twenty-year sentence. The South San Francisco postoffice was robbed a few weeks ago in a similar manner to the Monday morning affair.

Eighty-Ninth Anniversary

The eighty-ninth anniversary of the foundation of American Odd Fellowship, was celebrated here Saturday evening last, by Bay View Lodge, No. 109, Hope Encampment, No.60, and Olive Branch Rebekah Degree Lodge, No 48, with an invitation social and banquet in Odd Fellows' Hall. About a hundred members and guests were present who after listening to an excellent program, assisted in a progressive euchre tournament and in discussing a very enjoyable banquet. Following the banquet came several short speeches and the game of "Pig in the Parlor." The singing of "America" closed an exceedingly pleasant evening. The tournament first prizes were won by Mrs. F. Thorpe and O. M. Carrington, Mrs. T. C. Rice winning the second prize. The committee were Messrs. Steinberger, Rohr and Fox of Bay View, Dr. McCracken of Hope Encampment, and Mesdames Lydia Brown, Louise Lowerstein and Mary Klocksen of Olive Branch and they are deserving of great credit for the manner in which the entertainment was carried out.

Work Stopped

Quite a bit of excitement was created at the corner of Mound street and the railroad right-of-way Thursday morning when the moving of crossing gates by the railroad company's section gang was stopped by the town officers. The railroad people applied to the board some time ago for permission to move their gates to make room for additional tracks, but there being a dispute as to the width of the company's right-of-way, permission was denied to permit of an investigation. Notwithstanding such order, the section men were going ahead when the town officers appeared and ordered the work stopped.

An abstract of title of the right of way of the railroad company is now being prepared, to the end that a clear understanding may be had with the town trustees in any action which they may take. In the meantime the company agrees not to do anything in the matter.

Will Leave for Ireland

John Ryan who has resided in Redwood City and vicinity since 1859 will leave Monday next on a trip to his birthplace in Ireland. Mr. Ryan worked as gardener for several years in the employ of John T. Doyle, his brother, the late R. P. Doyle, Milton S. Latham and others of the pioneer residents of Menlo Park, as well as those of later years. He cannot say how long he will remain in the old country, but it is not unlikely that he will return before many months.

SEQUOIA WON FROM SANTA CLARA

The debate between the Redwood City and Santa Clara High Schools took place in Santa Clara high school auditorium. The interest of both schools was shown by the large audience present. A large delegation of students and rooters went down on the evening train to support their team. Their presence was very prominent throughout the debate. The musical selections rendered by the Santa Clara High School orchestra were enjoyed by all present.

The question debated was: Resolved, That the United States should own and operate the railroads, which was upheld by Messrs. Williams, Barson and Rodgers of Santa Clara, and opposed by Messrs. Superintendent of Schools, County Prof. C. D. Santa Clara College, Jose [illegible] and Redwood City High School, who have returned a decision in favor of the negative represented by Redwood City.

Richard Has Returned

Byron Jury has returned from his trip to South America. After visiting Panama he attempted to travel through the southern half of this continent but was turned back on account of the [illegible] and then changing their plans the party went to New York and came home after visiting all the large cities of the country.

Look Out for the Check Worker

Information has been received to the effect that a smooth check worker is working his way in this direction from Southern California. The man is five feet nine inches in height, weight 150 pounds, has dark hair and right arm is off below the elbow with perhaps an artificial hand.

A chapel has been built on the grounds of the Armitage Orphanage, San Mateo, and services were held there on the 23d instant for the first time. Since the fire destroyed the large home, the boys have had services in the gymnasium. Rev. Chandler, the superintendent, felt the need for a chapel, and it is due largely to his efforts that one has been built.

A grand stand which will accommodate several thousand spectators has been erected at the foot of Fillmore street, San Francisco, and from this point an unimpeded view of the passing fleet can be had. Reserved seat tickets $1, on sale at Ryan's Drug Store, Fillmore street cars run direct to the stand.

Press Association's Outing

The trip of the California Press Association to Southern California was not only one of pleasure but of education as well. The members while enoying the beauties of the sunny south land had an opportunity of studying the methods of the people in developing the wonderful resources of that favored section of the state. Desert wastes have been converted into thriving cities and beautiful gardens by the magic touch of irrigation and also by the enterprise of the people who work together in harmony for the mutual benefit of all. This article will touch but lightly on the trip as we will in later issuesgive an extended account of the outing.

The boardsof trade in the various sections that we visited left nothing undone to entertain the editors and show them all the points of interest and reount the natural advantages of their localities. One thing noticeable in the south that commends itself to the traveller is that all boost and none knock. They believe in thee motto "One for all and all for one." This more than anything else has helped to build the country south of the Tehachapi.

The business men believe in advertising and are always alert to display what their locality excells in. The southern part of the state is certainly a revelation to those who have not seen it and make one feel still prouder of the great common wealth of California after having viewed the beauties that are there.

The trip of the association was a great success in many ways and this is due totne president of the association, Friend W. Richardson, who has shown wonderful ability in conducting excursions. He perhaps has no equal in this line.

Theditors are indebted to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the Santa Fe and Salt Lake Companies for courtesies extended.

The places visited by the newspaper men were Long Beach, where they stopped at the Hotel Virginia, among the finest caravansaries in the south, Riverside, famous for its orange groves. The editors spent two days at the Glenwood hotel, the Mission Inn, far famed for its chiming bells and beautiful gardens. From here trips were made to the Arrowhead hotel and Redlands. At the latter place the visitors enjoyed a ride to Smiley heights, the resident portion of the city. From here a fine view of the San Bernardino valley is had. On the heights reside many wealthy people, among who is Mrs. Lawton, wife of the late General Lawton. She has a picturesque home here surrounded by a sweet scented orange grove.

A trip was then taken to Coronado, where the party remained for two days viewing the city of San Diego and Point Loma, the home of Mrs. Katherine Tingley, known as the "Purple Mother". The Raja Yoga school is established here and an entertainment was furnished by the pupils. They showed fine training under skillful teachers. Little tots of tender years displayed marvellous talent in music and mathematics. The party was shown the spacious grounds by courteous guides.

The trip up to Los Angeles through the orange groves was truly delightful. But before goingf urther, just a word about hotel Del Coronado. It is withoutdoubt the best summer resort in California. The manager, M Ross, made it very pleasant for the visitors by personally seeing that everything was donefor the comfort of his guests.

At Los Angeles thep arty stopped at Hotel Hayward and from here visited Pasadena, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, the soldier's home, Redondo and other places along the balloon route. The newspaper men while at Los Angeles were royally entertained by the Chambrof Commerce.

The trip was oneof the most successful andenjoyble ever had by the California Press Association whose members represent every portion of our fair state.

Pleasant Gathering

An enjoyable party was given Sunday evening at the Redwood City house. The affair was in honor of Miss Freda Schumacher, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schumacher. The time was pleasantly spent with cards, singing, instrumental music, and dancing. A repast followed. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Schumacher, M. J. Moran, Mrs. Emma Nonemann, Miss Hazel Nonemann, Mrs. Alma Halk, Mrs. Louisa Vogt, Otto Ketzs, Miss Minnie Vogt, Miss Louisa Vogt, Master Otto Vogt, Carl Vogt, Mrs. C. Helm, Master Oscar Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Spiese, Mr. and Mrs. Krug, Miss Esther Krug.

Solicitor Fined

C. Hyama, a Japanese solicitor from Palo Alto, was arrested Thursday by Marshal Christ on a charge of peddling without a license. He was brought before Recorder Hannon, pleaded guilty and fined twenty-five dollars, which he paid. Hyama is a Stanford student, and in order to help meet the expenses incidental to his education, puts in his spare time taking orders in near-by towns for a Japanese bazaar at the college city.

NYAL'S Spring Sarsaparilla

There's no better Spring Tonic made than Nyal's Sarsaparilla. Its just the right combination of herbs and iodides to put the human system in the finest condition after the "slowing up" of winter.

We know the ingredients, and know how it is made. That's why we recommend it so heartily. The iodides are the greatest of all blood purifiers; it has senna and mandrake to act on liver and the sarsaparilla is reinforced with good old fashioned herbs that never fail.

Wife of Secretary of Navy Pays Us a Visit—Residents to See Big Fleet

John E. Maloney, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P.J. Maloney, passed away Saturday evening last after an illness extending over a year. He suffered from a cancer in the throat and despite the best medical treatment he succumbed to the malady. Mr. Maloney was born in Menlo Park thirty-seven years ago and grew to manhood here. Early in life he identified himself with the livery business and at the time of his death he and his brother, James, controlled that industry in Menlo Park, owning the two stables located here. Deceased was a genial, good natured, whole souled young man who was beloved by all. He was kindhearted and would divide his last half dollar with a friend in need. The funeral cortege on Tuesday was the largest seen in town for many years. The floral tributes were very numerous and beautiful. The services at the Church of the Nativity were solemn and were well attended. A special choir from San Francisco sang the mass Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery wher all that was mortal of a popular young. man was consigned to his last resting place. His parents and four sisters and four brothers remain to mourn him. The family has the sympathy of every one in the Community. The following beautiful lines were contributed by a dear friend of the deceased:—

We loved to greet him as a friend,
We never called him mister;
But just said, "Hulloa Johnnie"
And he answered, "Hulloa Sister."

And many a heart bowed down with grief
To fate grew reconciled:
By his cheerful, pleasant greeting
And his happy, sunny smile.

How he helped us bear our burdens,
Cheering us upon the way
With the good right--hand of friendship
God alone, will tell some day.

Wewill miss his sunny presence,
So; to keep his memory dear,
We will greet our fellow mortals,
With some friendly words of cheer.

A. FRIEND.

The following resolutions were adopted by Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W.:

Whereas, The Almighty Father has seen fit to call to his eternal rest our beloved brother, John E. Maloney and

Whereas, By the decease of our beloved brother, the bereaved have lost a most dutiful and loving son, and devoted brother, and relative be it therefore,

Resolved, that we his brothers of Menlo Parlor, No. 185, N. S. G. W. extend to the bereaved parents and relatives our sincerest sympathy, in theis hour of trouble, and further be it,

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions of sympathy be forwarded to the parents and relatives of our late brother, that a copy be published in the county paper, and also spread in full uponthe minutes of this Parlor.

Signed this 30th day of April, 1908, by J. E. Fitzperald, C. H. Smith and M. F. X. Kavanaugh.

Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf and Mrs. Philip E. Bowles were the guests over Sunday of friends here.

Mrs. William L. Elkins Jr., Miss Marie Louise and Felton Elkins are at present in Philadelphia, but are planning to spend the summer in the Felton country home here.

Mrs. Eleanor Jarboe, who was known here in her girl hood days as Miss Eleanor Dimond, daughter of the late General Dimond who owned the Payne residence, was married on April 17th to Dr. Silverton of Milwaukee. Theb ride is too well-known and too popular here to require any comment andher friends are sending her all manner of good wishes. Dr. Silverston, who is an Austrian by birth, is a clever scientist and inventor, and is said to be an exceptionally brilliant and agreeable man.

C. W. Smith and family are occupying their beautiful residence on Santa Cruz avenue. They passed the winter in San Francisco.

Supervisor John MacBain is rapidly recovering from his recent illness at Gilroy Hot Springs. He is feeling much better and will be able to be around in a few days.

Menlo Park will be a deserted village on next Wednesday. Every one in town is going to see the fleet. The railroad company will have reduced rates and excursions every hour during the morning.

A pleasant scoial event last week was a party at Mr. Dick's given in honor of Mr. Frank Williams. Mr. Williams sang several solos which were much enjoyed. Mr. Moodie gave a reading and Mr. Dick gave several pieces of music with his graphophone. A fine supper was served. Mr. William's singling has been very helpful during the winter both in the services at the Presbyterian church and at the social gatheringss. He expects to leave for Michigan before long, and his many friends hope he may return with his family to Menlo Park.

Miss Rose Hammerson was in the city the first ofthe week.

Anglers who have been looking forward to the first of May with bright dreams ofbig strings of trout had their dreams realized yesterday. Many went tot he head waters oft he San Francisquito creek and made large catches .Others went over the mountains to the La Honda and Alpine creeks and did not do so well. Harry Morey caught a string of 25 in the Fitzpatrick creek. The fish were all good size, averaging 10 inches in length. It is said fishing is better in the local streams than in the mountain crecks. Numerous parties will seek the streams tomorrow and some good catches are expected.

A pretty home wedding took place at the desident of Mrs. MaryStanton Thursday evening when Miss Mary Stanton and William Rahtje were untied in marriage by the Reverend Moodie. Owing to a recent death in the Stanton family the wedding was private, only a fewfriends were present. The bride looked beautiful gowned in a campagne rajah silk dress and her bridesmaid, Miss Meta Kugeler, was charmingly dressed in a stunning suit of pink mouslaine de soire. The best man was Charles Westover, a partner of the groom. After the wedding supper the young couple took the 8:50 train at Palo Alto for Santa Cruz where they will enjoy the fleet festivities. The bride spent most of her life here and is well knownand liked by all for her prepossessing manner and winning ways. The groom is engaged in the manufacture of soda water at San Mateo and isvery popular in business circles. He has prepared a fine home for his bride there. Mr. and Mrs. Rehtje carry with them the best wishes of the people of Menlo Park for a happywedded life.

Rev. Kngsley Blodgett, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, is spending a short vacation in Yosemite Valley before departing for the East. He has resigned his pastorate here and will leave for his old home in Worster, Mass., next Saturday, to spend the summer. On Tuesday he will be given a farewell party by the SundaySchool children of his parish. Mr. Blodgett is highly esteemed by the jpeople of Menlo Park and hercarries with him the best wishes of all. Rev. Wilson, secretary of this dioses, will have charge of the parish during themonth of May, no permanent pastor having yet been appointed.

Martin Kuck and his daughter, Bertha, left yesterday for Santa Cruz to see the fleetandpay a short visit to Miss Martha Kuck.

Menlo Park is at present undergoing the ravages of the chicken thief During the week culprits have entered the hen roosts of A. Gale, P. Lenehan, J.B.Kelly and J. B. Leonard and robbed them of choice fowl. Monday night the hennery of Mr.L eonard who has jpst established a place in Home Grove was entered and 6 Rhode Island Red chickens taken. They were imported stock the rooster costing $20. Tramps are blamed for this wholesale chicken stealing and on Wednesday Constable Cronk drove 20 of them over the bridge to Palo Alto. The officer is here every day and is playing havoc with hoboes.

M. Schimechy, will on next week open a fruit and cigar store in the Martin Kuck block on Oak Grove Avenue.

The Menlo Park base ball nine will play the Merchants team of San Mateo tomorrow on the local diamond and a good game is looked for.

STORY OF SLVAERY

Covering Period From 1620 to 1860

WRITTEN BY MISS JESSIE SMITH

Bright Grammar School Pupil, in Examination in United States History

In a recent examination in United States history in the local grammar school, several eighth grade pupils u wrote excellent compositions on the slavery question. The following one was written by Jessie Smith is published exactly as she revised it.

Slavery was introduced in the colony of Virginia in the year 1620 by a DutchCaptain. The institution of slavery in th Colonies did not amount to much. The Colonists would have been willing to abolish it. But England, who made a great deal of money slave trading with the Colonists, would not allow it. After the Colonies became independent other questions of greater importance were brought up and slavery was forgotten. The Constitution only mentioned. It said that three-fifths of all the slaves should be counted as population and that slave trade could not be prohibited by Congress before 1808. This left a great many questions concerning slavery unsettled.

After our new government was inaugurated, slavery was gradually abolished in the North but in the South theclimate and industrial conditions were so fit for slavery that that institution wasfirmly established there. In the North the climate and soil were unsuitable for agriculture and slaves did not thrive there. In the South the people owned great, fertile plantations and raised great crops of cotton, tobacco and rice. It was necessary to have slaves on these plantations to do the work.

As our population began to grow, our populated territory also began to grow. People began to settle west of the Alleghanies. The Ordinance of 1781 had provided that there should be noslavery in the Northwest Territory, i.e. the territory north of the Ohio River, east of the Mississippi River and west of the Alleghanies. In all the territory south of that slavery exsisted. Therefore, the question of slavery was not brought up until the territory west ofthe Mississippi began to be settled.

The first territory west of the Mississippi to apply for admission into the NUnion as a State was Missouri. Then the question came up, "Shall Missouri be a free or a slave state?" The South wished it to come in as aslave state and the north wished it to come in as a free state. Maine at the same time applied for admission into the Union as a free state. The Southerners in Congress said they would not allow Maine to come in as a free state if theNortherners would not allow Missouri to come n as a slave state. Therewasthe same number of free states, and therefore there was the same number of Southern senators as there were Northern senators. If a member of the house of Representatiives, which had a majority of Northerners, should pass any bill which the Southerners did not approve of, they could prevent its passage in the Senate This was the case in question and therefore a compromise was decided upon. The compromise Law of 1820, provided that Maine should come in as a free state and Missouri asa slave state, und that all the territory north of the parallel of 36° 30′ should be free soil.

The slavery question seemed settled for good after the passage of the Missouri Cmopromise, but a new party called the "Abolitionists" was established in the North. This party wished to abolish slavery, and papers such s "The Liberator" were published. Congress was fairly stormed with petitions for the abolition af slavery, until it finally passed a resolution, saying that it would not receive any petitions concerning the slavery question. This was called the "Gag Ruleof Congress." It was entirely unconstitutional.

About this time Texas, who had gained her independence from Mexico, applied for admission into the Union. The Southerners wished Texas to come in, as it would extend their slaveterritory, and for that reason the North did not wish it to come in. But the Southerners also advocated the annexation of Oregon, who at the same time was asking for annexation, as a free territory. This seemed fair, and so Texas was annexed in 1845and Oregon in 1846.

Shortly after the annexation of Texas, a boundary dispute arose with Mexico. This led to the Mexican War. During the last part of the war, a bill was proposed for the appropriation of money to settle the boundary dispute and to pay Mexico for all the land we should acquire from her. Wilmot, a congressman, attached a proviso to the bill, saying that all the territory acquired fromM exico shouldb e free soil. This aroused the indignation of the Southerners, and the bitter feeling between the North and the South became so greatthat the people p soon saw that it would be necessary for Congress to pass a law concerning the matter. During the Mexican War we acquired California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and a part of Utah, Wyoming and Colorado. When the congress of 1849 met there were a great many qustions to be settled. The Northerners wanted California to come into the Union as a free state. The Southerners didn't.

The North wanted the Mexican cession to be free soil and the South wanted it to become slave soil. The Southerners complained that the fugitive slave law was not enforced. The Southerners wanted slavery in the District of Columbia and the Northerners wanted it abolished.

These questicns were disputed a great deal and Clay, the Pacificator fearing that a civil war might follow proposed a compromise. His compromise known as he Compromise of 1850 became a law and provided for these things.

1st. California should come in as a free state.

2nd. The rest of the Mexican Cession should be divided into two parts New Mexico and Utah, and the people should decide whether they wished slavery or not.

3rd. A new and stringent fugitive slave law should be passed.

4th. Slave-trade should be abolished in the District of Columbia.

The old fugitive law could only be enforced by the judges, but United States commissioners were provided for to enforce the new one, and any citizen wassupposed to aid in the capture of a fugitive slave. Negroes who were free were seized and made slaves. This led the Northern people to pass "The Personal Liberty Law," which protected free negroes from being made slaves of. The Northern people also had a system to aid slaves to escape. This system was called "Thee Under Ground Railroad." While the Compromise of 1850 was supposed to settle the slavery question the fugitive slave law kept bringing it up. Slaves would escape into free states and when caught their masters would treat them cruelly. This showed the Northerners the worst side of slavery. When Pierce became president he thought that the slavery question was settled. The Platte Country, (west of Kansas) which was without government, Stephen A. Douglas, who was chairman of The Territorial Government Committe proposed a bill saying that the Platte Country shauld be called Nebraska, and the slavery question should be decided by popular sovereignty; i. e. the people of the territory couldecide for themselves. The Northern people did all they could to prevent the passage of this bill and Douglas recalled it, but proposed another to the same effect, except that it said that the country should be dividedinto two territories Nebraska and Kansas. The bill was passed. Douglas had proposed this simple little plan to gain favor for himself. But the pro-slavery men wished to settle Kansas so that it would be slave soil and the anti-slavery men wished to settle it with the anti-slavery men so as it would be free This caused civil war in Kansas.. It lasted seven years. When the election to decide whether Kansas should be free or slave soil came, it was illegal,and. when Kansas finally applied for admission into the Union as a free state, Congress would not admit her at all.

About this time Uncle Tom's Cabin was published and made the feeling against slavery more intense. Other questions were dropped and the slavery question was the only one discussed. The anti-slavery men organized the "Black Republican Party in 1854.

When Buchannan became president, some questions concerning slavery had been settled, but one that was not, was, "Shall a slave who has gone with his master into a free state or territory, becom free?" Dred Scott was a slave who had gone with his master into Illinois, a freg state, and then into Minnesota, a free territory. He then came back to Missouri where he was born, and sued for his freedom. The Supreme court decided:

That a negro was not a citizen and could not sue in the United States courts.

That the Missouri Compromise was null and void, and that Congress had no more right to shut out slaves than it had to shut out animals. The result of this was to increase the bitter feeling between the North and South and it made the territories slave soil.

Lincoln and Douglas about this time were running for U. S. Senator from Illinois. Lincoln challenged Douglas to debate with him on certain questions. Lincoln was a staunch Republican and anti-slavery man; and he knew that Douglas could not uphold popular soverignty and the Dred Scott Decision. He for saw that Douglas probably would uphold the popular sovereignty doctrine and thereby lose his friends in the South and gain favor in Illinois where popular sovereignty was advocated. Douglas would then become senator from Illinois, but would lose all chanc of becoming president in 1860 for the South would never vote for any man who wouldnot uphold the Dred Ccott decision. But Lincoln knew that Douglas would try for the Democratic nomination with the Northern Democrats' support. This would split the Democratic party in two and cause the election of the Republican nomnee. This showed the greatness of Lincoln. He was willing to give up the senatorship so that the Republican nominee would become president.

His plan worked excellently and when the presidential election came in 1860 Lincoln, the Republican nominee, was elected.

VOICES FROM THE SEA.

Common Phrases That Have Had Their Origin Aboard Ship.

It is remarkable what a number of common expressions in use every day come to us from the sea. You grumble at a third party for "shoving in his oar" in a conversation. A friend inquires after your health. "Oh, first rate, thanks!" you reply, using a term derived from the days of old wooden line of battle ships. Probably each of us knows of some one who is "sailing under false colors."

Politicians are not infrequently "thrown overboard" by their party when they disappoint expectations. We call tall buildings "skyscrapers," a term originally purely nautical. "Close quarters" is a very common expression, which, like "first rate," dates from the time of wooden fighting ships. The "quarters" were protections erected along the bulwarks behind which sailors could lie low and which were used to help to repel boarders.

There are others, too—"half seas over," for instance, and "high and dry." Honest men are said to be "aboveboard." We call a good for nothing man a "derelict," and we urge people to go "full speed ahead" on all occasions when we mean there is need for haste.

DEAD SEA BATHING.

It Must Be Horrible Torture, According to This Account.

In an article on bathing in the Dead sea a clergyman who has made the experiment says: "No sooner has one plunged into the water than one is whipped off one's feet and goes bobbing helplessly about, like a wretched cork. In the effort to regain one's footing and get back to shore one's feet and shins are barked by the jagged stones and pebbles, and when at length one does emerge from its treacherous bosom, with the lower limbs bleeding and torn, one becomes aware of a horrible tingling and burning sensation in eyes, ears, nostrils, mouth and almost every pore of the skin from the brine and bitumen which have penetrated everywhere. Unless great care is taken the bather in the Dead sea is liable to an eruption, which breaks out all over the body and which is commonly known as the 'Dead sea rash.' The best antidote to this is to hurry across as quickly as possible to the river Jordan and to take a second plunge therein. The soft and muddy waters of that sacred but dirty stream will effectually remove the salt that has incrusted the body."—New York Tribune.

TALKS ON TEETH
BY
DR. VAN VROOM
Sixth and Market Sts., San Francisco

It seems a wonderful and impossible thing to the average "plate" wearer that we can put teeth in the mouth and make them stay there firmly without the use of a plate.

Almost the first question put to us by a plate victim is, "How can you do it? and what holds them in place?"

The Alveolar method of putting in teeth is our secret. The fact that we do the work successfully and that it is both beautiful as well as successful, is proof the secret is valuable.

Given two or more teeth in either jaw, tight or loose ones (we make the loose ones tight) and healthy, we promise to put in a beautiful set of teeth, each tooth set independently of its neighbor, the whole forming a piece of work that cannot be told from the best that nature can do.

Will they last?

The question usually follows.

We can show hundreds of cases that have been in upwards of four years and are, if anything, more firmly intrenched today than when the work was finished.

They will outlast those who are wearing them.

Will you come in and let us look your teeth over? The consultation and examination are free.

No obligation goes with it to have any work done unless you wish to employ our services.

If we can enable you to do away with a wabbly, unclean, unsatisfactory, painful plate, wouldn't it be the greatest service that could be done for you?

Half the charge of others.

CAUTION—Look out for imitators and impostors. We have NO OFFICES outside of those given below.

If you cannot call at present, write for information.
